360 degree eco bed linen

In the traditional area of decoration fabrics, the company Deco Design Fürus GmbH from Krefeld, Germany presents a new collection from the italian designerin Evelina Antuono. Also the presentation of custom-made shower curtains, which are made corresponding to the customers wishes and the conditions of the location, belong to the exhibition. But the new collections of bed linen and curtains under the brandname OceanSafe will receive the greatest attention. The products are 100 percent safe for the biological lifecycle. These textile end products are produced with no harmful substances under the strictest ecological criteria through the whole cradle-to-cradle value chain. This applies to cultivation, processing, finishing and residue-free return to the value chain, without ever producing waste. These innovative products are currently after a long research and development cycle in the final phase of the certification cradle-to-cradle certified TM.
